THE ACADEMY HERALD

1963

DEDICATION

Chances are, if you have ever been to a music festival, a ballgame, or gone skiing, either recreational or to a ski meet, you have come to know well the man pictured above.

This man, small in stature but with a heart as big as all outdoors, has endeared himself to all Gould students. The first day of school each year finds him patiently unloading suitcases and trunks for the arriving students. During the long winter months, one sees him clearing the walks with Gould's notorious snow-blower.

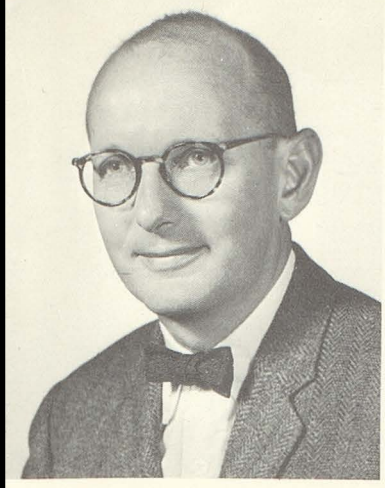

It is with pride that we, the Class of 1963, gratefully dedicate the seventy-seventh issue of the ACADEMY HERALD to Guy Gibbs, with many thanks for a job well done.

HERALD STAFF

This year there has been a distinct change not only in the appearance of our campus but also in the construction of our yearbook, the ACADEMY HERALD. Each year as the proceedings for a new issue begin, there arises the question of added pictures and thus the shifting of publishing companies. By a vote of the entire staff in October, 1962 it was decided that this would be the year for the challenging task to be attempted.

The American Yearbook Company's representative, Mr. Jim Logan, met several times with the Editor and Mrs. Gibbs, the faculty advisor. Weeks of mental exertion followed as an outline of activities and assignments was carefully planned. With this year's set up, a complete dummy of each page, including advertisements was required. To help with this involved task, a committee of industrious workers was chosen by the Editor. These cooperative students have spent many long hours, most often they had duties elsewhere, in Mrs. Gibbs' room patiently drawing squares on carbon copy and stamping an unending supply of pictures and articles. Will anyone ever forget "C562"!

Those on the special committee were as follows: Sylvia Smith, Dick Jacobs, Linda Paine, Steve Dock and Cally Chandler. Others meriting recognition are Norma Kimball, business manager, and Nancy Brown and Linda Nickerson, her assistants, as well as the two chief typists, Charlene Rice and Caroline Poland.

To do any task and to do it well so that the end product merits praise is the desire of any individual who wishes to excel. So it is with the members of the Herald Staff. They have worked with an unexhaustable supply of enthusiasm and energy.

As one can see in his viewing of history, each new Idea, each new change is called progress and is often slow and difficult at first. Soon, the goal becomes more visible and the success attained pays many times for the discomfort of sitting for hours at a desk, editing copy and preparing the way for the presses.

I leave behind many fine memories. One of the most vivid will be my editorship of the ACADEMY HERALD. My thanks to all who contributed to its success.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of 1964 had in its freshman year the odd experience of having four girls as officers. There was, of course, nothing wrong with that, but this year it may be observed that only one girl still holds the honor. Bill Boynton is our noteworthy president. He is also treasurer of the Camera Club, vice-president of the French Club, and the sophomore representative to the Student Activity Council. Lewis Carter, the sophomore celebrity, became the vice-president, with this but his first year at Gould Academy. Robert Clemons has the pleasant job as treasurer; Nancy Fox is secretary. Nancy was treasurer last year -- the only officer to be elected again.

Our freshman year was a good year, as freshman years go. It was hard to get up on our own 180 feet and be recognized, but as the year progressed several members of the class proved to the world that it wasn't a hopeless cause. In sports we came through with three lettermen -- Kevin Wight and Greg Glines in football and Bruce Lane in track. This was quite an achievement, and things began to brighten for the future in the line of athletics. Then in the middle of the year, Jane Look was elected by the Future Homemakers of America to attend the National F.H.A. Convention in Salt Lake City, Utah. The coming of spring brought with it the start of the Kibbe-Totten romance, and the end is not yet in sight!

The sophomore class should be proud of those who, in just two years, have established a reputation of outstanding scholastical achievement. In times such as the present it is important to get as much as possible out of the few years that we have for a formal education. At Gould Academy, where the standards are high, it shows great effort to maintain grades averaging at eighty-five or better. A comparatively small number of students make the Honor Roll, and fewer still obtain Honors. Among the few sophomores who continually average these high grades are Ethel Kimball, Geneva Kimball, and Tony Chapman. Those consistantly meriting college certificates for two years are Bill Boynton and Ann Scribner. Their time and energy have been well spent, and they cannot help but benefit from this sacrifice.

reason of Gould Academy to the social activities of the sophomore class seems to be quite a jump, but this is the root of all civilization, and the sophomores are very highly civilized. About a month and a half after school started, the social highlight for the sophomores was held -- the sophomore weekend. The weekend started off with what the sophomores think (and everyone agrees) was the biggest, loudest, and best rally of them all. Following this was the dance sponsored by the class of 1965. After Lewis "The Potato Man" Carter had led us through the evening with his hot "calf hides," the general talk was that the sophomores had made a hit.

From the three lettermen in our freshman year to the nine sophomore athletes who earned their G, the 1965 class has shown up very well in the sports picture. Two new boys who entered the sophomore class just this year have shown fine talent. Les Stevens, a high scoring varsity basketball man, and Bob Pierce, a very good 440 track man, have given the sophomore class an unmistakable distinction on campus. Everyone realizes the handicaps the girls were faced with this year as far as sports are concerned, but the sophomore girls have kept in shape pretty well (Huh, boys!). Speaking of shapes, we should not forget to mention the excellent representation of the five sophomore girls in cheerleading. Jane Totten, Joy Moore, Sue Bartash, Nancy Fox, and Ginevera Bean all yelled for the Huskies this year.

Sw-o-o-o-osh! and the sophomores are off for the Gould Winter Carnival activities. These begin with the class basketball competition. Here the '65 team under coach Les Stevens fought to a first place tie with the juniors. Then after much work and time, the magnificent sophomore snow sculpture was awarded another first place. After Carnival Weekend was over the sophomores found themselves in a very well deserved second place; coming in second in the skiing and third in the obstacle races. Three cheers for the sophomores!

FRESHMAN CLASS

The freshman class elected as their class officers for this school year the following:

President: John Lombard
Vice President: Christine Sanborn
Secretary: Martha Laws
Treasurer: Daryl Marcy

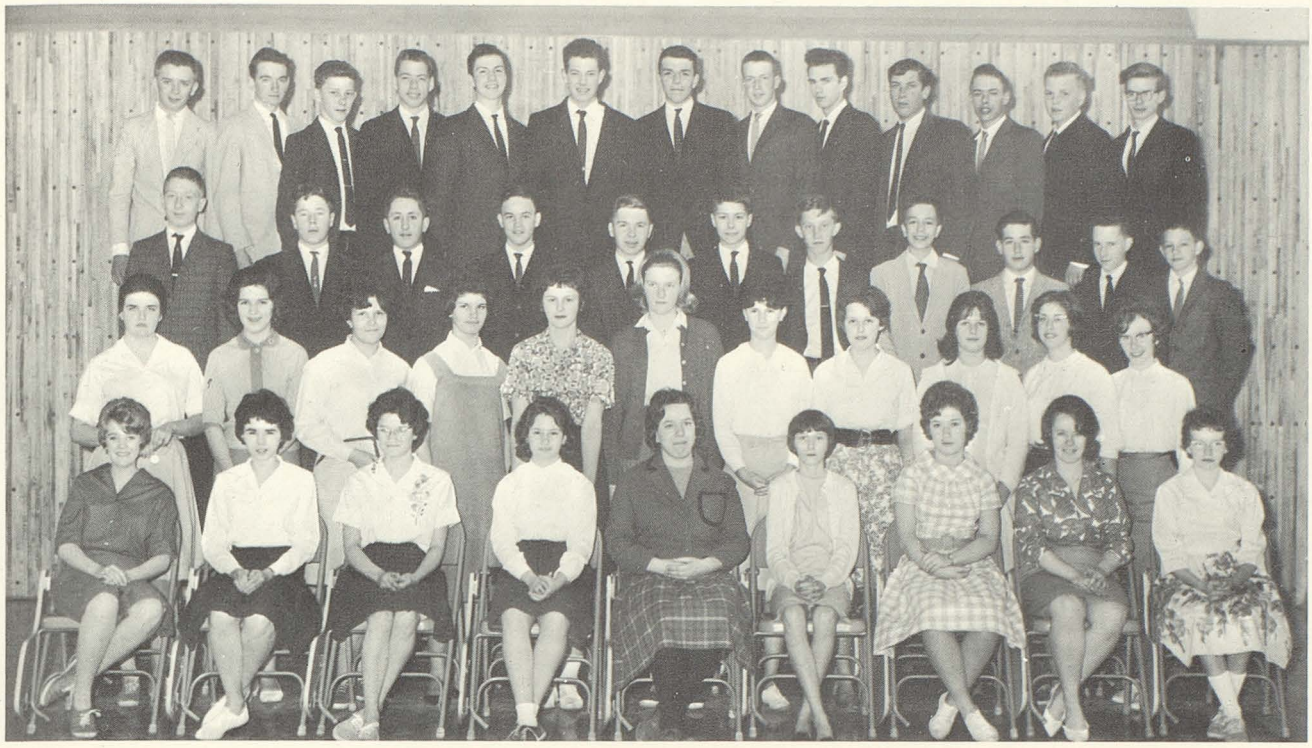

The fall of 1962 brought with it a new group of students ready to begin their secondary education. The class consisted of one hundred eager freshmen ready for new adventures. Among our classmates one could find musicians, singers, debators, artists, and comedians. With the aid of our advisors, Miss Hall and Mr. Owen, the class meshed into efficient running order by October.

In the early part of October, the freshmen held an exclusive party for the purpose of acquainting each class member with his fellow classmates. The evening consisted of general dancing and musical entertainment from our own class, followed by a movie.

During the months between October and March, the class lent its support at all the football and basketball games to help cheer our teams.

With the coming of Carnival Weekend, spirited freshmen could be found outdoors working on their snow sculpture. They were duly rewarded by placing second in the snow sculpture. While the sculpture workers were busy packing snow, the freshman hoopsters could be found at the fieldhouse battling it out for third place. The basketeers combined their energies to tie for last place with the seniors in class basketball.

The Friday of Carnival Weekend was spent at Sunday River Skiway, where class skiing competition took place. Although several difficulties were encountered, the freshmen made a fine showing.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Saturday afternoon was spent on the athletic field in a variety of intramural contests. The results of the races were disappointing with the exception of the snowshoe race. Snowshoeing seems to be a strong point of the class. During the competition, the freshmen displayed fine sportsmanship and determination to do well. In the final tally, the freshmen emerged as proud third place holders.

The weekend following spring vacation was sponsored by the freshmen. Publicity for the dance on Friday consisted of colorful and multiform posters displayed throughout Hanscom Hall. The dance was widely attended by members of all four classes. On the following night a very entertaining movie was enjoyed by both students and faculty. As a final result, the weekend was a successful venture for the freshman class.

In the early part of April, the creative minds of the class were brought together to design a banner to represent our class. The finished product was both unique and colorful.

In every organization on campus, the class has been very well represented by actively participating members. The various athletic squads have also profited greatly from these freshmen. All in all, it looks as though quite and up-and-coming class has been started this year.

The class of 1966 is greatly indebted to our advisors and the numerous other people who have devoted their time and efforts to making this a most successful year for the class. To these people we wish to express our sincere thanks.

GEHRING HALL

For many of us, our dormitory days here at Gould are over and gone, but they will never be forgotten; I think we will remember most of all the many friends we have made -- the sharing of secret joys and sorrows, the warmth of knowing we belonged, yes, even the squabbles, and always the willing hands reaching out to help.

Mrs. G., with here yearly trials and tribulations -- messy laundry rooms, broken driers, and Saturday morning dust and Coke bottles in the corridor -- surely deserves a token of appreciation for her patience.

And now the girls -- freshmen first.

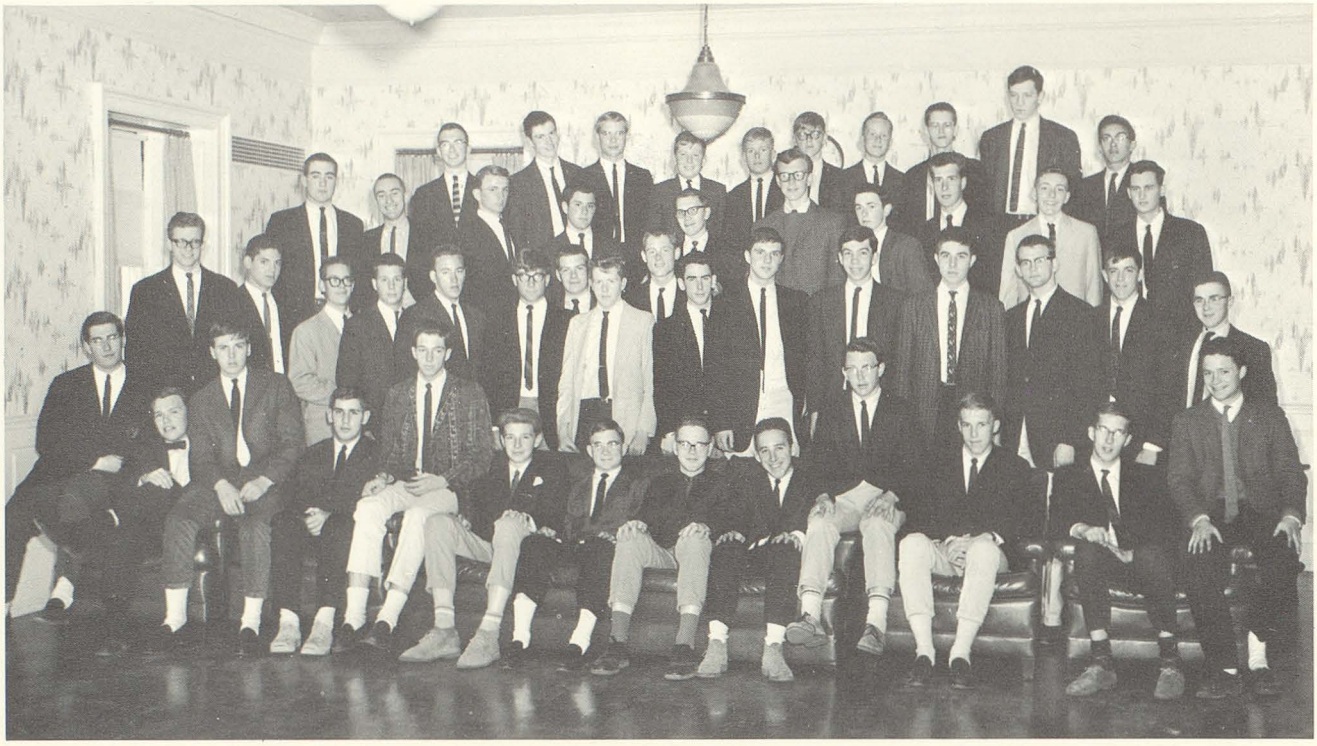

When we think of just plain nice people, Laura Wiley is high on the list. Everyone knows Linda Calef; she's that vibrant little blonde freshman . . . Mary Steidl is an avid skier; we expect great results in the next three years. Although she's quiet, Diane Burrill is a far cry from sprouting a halo. Keeping and winning friends is easy for Chris Sanborn; she's a brown-eyed sweetheart. Either the piano will wear out or energetic Laura Sawyer will become an accomplished pianist before long . . . Not too quiet and not too loud, not very tall and not too short, Bev Kelley's a "just right" girl. Endless reading habits make it amazing that Di Delano finds time to be right in the swing of things. Willowy and blonde, Stephanie (Steve) Buchanan hardly lives up to her nickname . . . Frank and outspoken, Lyn Booth expects the same from others. Riding horses and Anne Olmstead go together like peaches and cream. In and out of mischief, Joyce Moore's flashing dark hair and sparkling teeth add to her vivacious personality. Either very, very happy or very, very sad, Sue Bartash's personality is kaleidescopic. No one will forget "Billy," Wilma Philbrook's happy laugh and quick smile. "Ducky," Ann Scribner, is fun-loving soph with many close friends. Sue Gould is a dear; harsh words are utterly foreign to her gentle nature . . . Beauty is a treasure; Jane Look's beauty is more than skin deep. Understanding and an attraction for a certain blond basketball player fit Jane Totten's soft-spoken mein. The way to success is through perseverance, and Nancy Hancock has some to spare . . . Knowing when to speak and when to listen, Terry Cummings is a good sort of person to have around. Elephants and boys are the two main loves of honor roll student Patty Eames. Eleanor Parker is a whimsical character blessed with shining blonde hair. Personality, versatility, plus a flair for living, add up to Ann Thomas, a welcome addition this year . . . True learning is a prized possession; by this token, Louise Delano is a wealthy girl. Helpfulness and a willingness to learn -- these are Sue French (Frenchie). Even though she hasn't been with us long, we seem to have always known Melanie Glidden . . . Oh! Cheryl Smith is at it again; although she's a little mixed up, she has a heart of gold. Likeable and considerate is the only way to describe Gaye Farnsworth. Dynamic and pleasant to know, Joey Runyon lives with a fervor . . . Oslo, Norway, is Tina Corliss's first stop this summer -- luck with a purpose. Never grumpy, seldom sad, Diana Appleby has a thoroughly likeable way with her. Everyone knows Jeannie Thurber; she studies hard and values her friendships highly . . . If you're in a jam, Adele Davis will help you out (unless she's walking out with a certain fellow). Sweetness and a calm and quiet manner make Betsy Thompson a friend worth having . . . Only at Gould a year, but Chris Carswell has won a place in our hearts. Flaming red hair and Bev Shipp; there's never a quiet moment when Shippy's launching a new scheme . . . Sylvia Smith is a wonderful person; she's never too busy to help someone out. Ingenuity, a pretty face, and a bouncy personality -- Sarah Burgess will go far. Let's not forget Jan Tinkham, or Tink, as we call her; her hair is her crowning glory. Very excitable, awfully nice, Sue Crane is a friend to all. Even in real life, Jane Allen is an actress; dramatics is her first love. Remembering personality with an extra large dash of individualism, we think of Mary Ann Chase . . . The things we remember Connie Myrick for are exuberance, a bubbly personality, and Gilead, her guitar. Heaven help you if you forget where Hampton is when you talk with summer-loving Marsha Langley! Eleanor Lougee, our dorm president, may best be described as one who holds her own . . . Only Mary Eaton has that way with clothes, boys, and just about anything she undertakes. Thoughtfulness and an ear for someone else's troubles are the attributes that seem to fit Callie Chandler. Hope and optimism seem to suit Sandy White's easy-to-get-along-with attitude toward life. Earnest self-appraisal and a gentle naivete make Jean Gillespie a welcome New Yorker. Really -- don't you know Pinky? She's Mary Lee Gunn, that bright-eyed brunette from Berlin. Singing is Bev Bryant's talent; she has brought four years of friendliness and music to our dorm . . . Often quiet, seldom showing her inner self, Verna Philbrook's consideration makes her well-liked by all. Full of fun and always smiling, Karen Langley is the personification of a happy outlook . . . Gentleness of spirit and genuine interest in the world around her -- this is Diana Weatherby. "Oggie-Doggie," as she is affectionately called, is a serious-minded worker and world traveler. Love of a good time and playing pranks remind us of who else but -- Joanie Boardway! Do you know? This makes me awfully sad; that strange senior in room 20 is really going to miss you all . . .

GEHRING HALL

FARNSWORTH AND HOLDEN HALLS

Welcome to Holden Hall, home of forty-six well-behaved, kind, generous, loyal, brave, reverent and trustworthy young gentlemen. As we enter, we are reminded of the familiar saying, "Abandon hope, ye who enter here," especially when we turn the corner and are nearly trampled by John Lombard, ridden by Daryl Marcy, who screams wildly as they disappear down the hall. The first floor alley is a scene of general confusion as the freshmen play an interesting game known as destruction. Sandy Runyon is entertaining himself messing up Harvey's (Jeff Dover's) room, Harvey is at work on Phil Martin's room, Phil is at work on Jim Lougee's room while Jim is at work on Runyon's, thus completing the circle.

A quick glance in the TV room shows Bob Pierce and Ray Atwood eagerly watching a World War I movie. Back in the hall we see Ken Morse setting up a small rocket which he has accidentally (?) aimed at the door of the Barths' apartment.

A trip down the back stairs takes us to the Butt Room. Unable to breathe pure smoke, we must be content to stand at the door and peer in. Through the haze, we can perceive the Mole (Dave Gardner), Ackley (Dave Anderson), Foggy (Warren Welch), Cecil (John Goodrich), Dave Putnam, Gordon Manuel and Tommy Day all intent upon Mose (Tyler Moses) who, having clasped a ski pole to his chin, whirls in tight circles while gazing at the basket on the pole. We have heard this causes extreme dizziness, and we believe it when Mose falls to the floor, striking his head on a chair, while everyone else laughs deliriously.

We cross the basement to get to the front stairs and are nearly run over by Paul Knight, who is bombing around the basement on his unicycle. At the bottom of the stairs is a room pretty well filled by Bearce Carter's drums. The room is otherwise known as the place "where the elite meet to beat" and is currently occupied by Art Hammond and Bill McCall, who are watching Bearce pound out a routine of devastating percussion.

A climb of two flights takes us to the second floor, where we spy Paul Imhof, Dave Kibbe, and Les Stevens setting up a scrimmage in the hall. In Jeff Lord and Billy Boynton's room, Jeff, Bill, and Rolfe Foxwell are planning a revolution. Steve Bean, to the amazement of all, is quietly reading in his own room. Phil Burns is in Joel Nickols' room discussing girls and associated problems. We find a general convocation in Brian McCrodden and Mike Davenport's room. Pete Hubbard, Bob Amrein, and Alan Howard are talking over the year's skiing with Mike and Brian.

Down the hall in room 30 Jim Corriveau, Bruce Moulton, and Tom Hamilton are reminiscing about a weekend they would rather forget.

In room 31 Barry Townsend, Jim Clifton, and Ray Halperin are at work on geometry: they're trying to prove that the earth is flat.

Next door in 32, John Bartash's room, John, Jim Bancroft, Ed Dudley and Jay Chaberlain are listening to music . . . well . . . they call it music . . .

In the lower dorm, Farnsworth House, we find Doug Rosen listening to Bach and daydreaming about heaven knows what, while in the next room Jack Andrews and Bob (Rocky) Swain are planning a raid on the Andover Telstar installation, which incidentally, they are planning to deflate.

I would like to add here a word of thanks to Mr. Emery on behalf of all the boys for the many things he has done: new furniture, new television and recovering of the pool table as well as the abundance of kindness and understanding. Also responsible is our Dorm Council under President Bruce Moulton.

STUDENT ACTIVITY COUNCIL

The newly revised Student Council, under the name of Student Activity Council, proved very successful in its first year, 1962-1963.

The Council consists of one member from each of the four classes and one or two members from each organization on campus, including one member from each of the dormitories.

The purpose of changing the Council from its former state of consisting of members from each class was to bring more unity and co-ordination among the different organizations on campus. This has been carried out successfully under the capable leadership of Mary-Ann Chase, president. Others working right along beside Mary-Ann have been vice-president Bruce Moulton, secretary, Kathleen Towne, and treasurer, Richard Jacobs.

From the Council was drawn an Executive Council to take care of affairs which could be handled better by a smaller group. On this Executive Council besides the officers are Julia Brown, Beverly Bryant, and Joanne Runyon.

Bruce Moulton was elected to the Athletic Council.

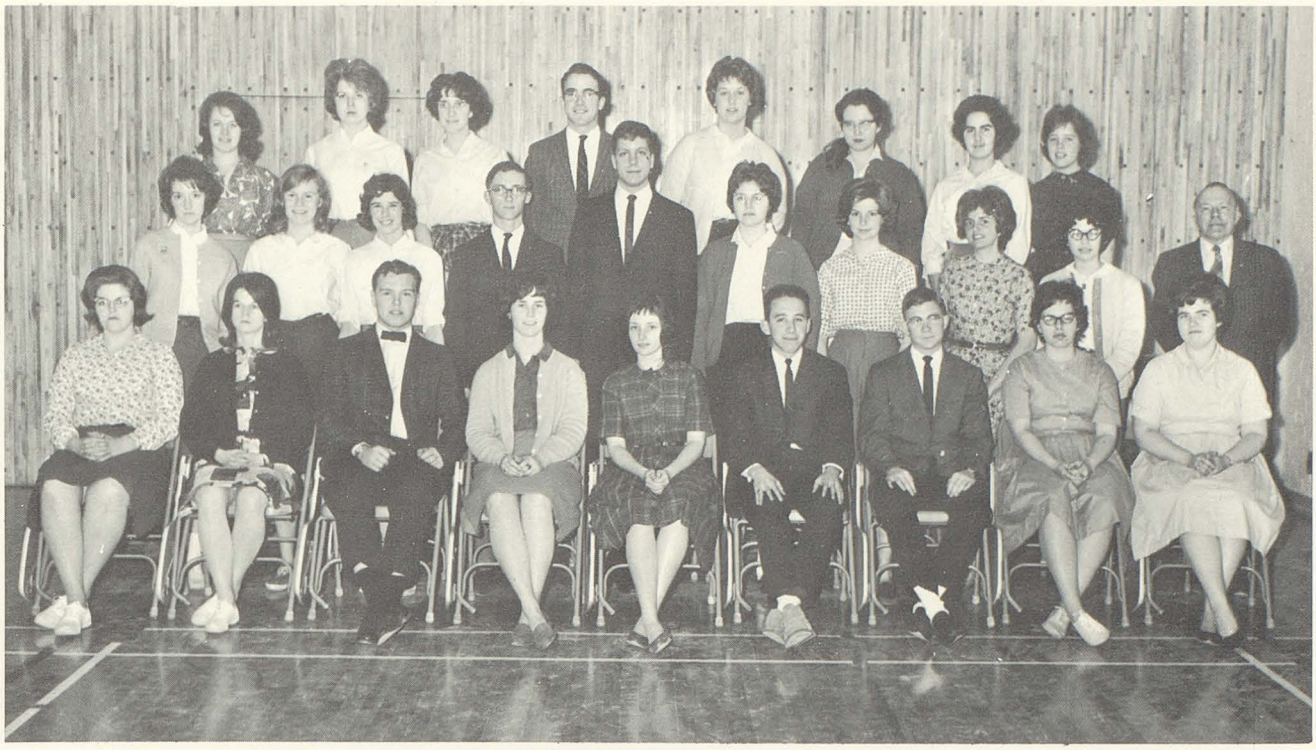

During the year, the Student Activity Council kept very busy. Among its activities were planning weekends and sponsoring two, itself. The group was also responsible for the Christmas Party held in the field house December 16.

Perhaps the major project the Council undertook was the planning of a school ring. After weeks of discussion three rings were selected from three different companies and were put on display. The whole school then marked ballots for one of these rings or for the continuance of a class ring. The result of the voting was the continuance of class rings.

A second major undertaking was the selection of a school blazer. The blazer that was chosen is navy blue. A school patch was also made to go on the blazers. At first only the boys of the Chapman Club purchased the blazers, but they were available to the whole school in the spring and may be purchased by all incoming students.

Much credit is due to the advisors of the Council -- Miss Macdougall, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Richardson. Walter Grover, last year's president, and past president of the Western Region of the Maine Association of Student Councils is to be thanked for his cheerful advice and cooperation. His experience as a representative to the National Student Council Convention in California in 1962 has proven worthwhile as he sat in on our meetings and wisely counseled.

BLUE AND GOLD

Under the critical eyes of Mary Ann Chase and Kathy Towne, co-editors, the Gould Academy BLUE AND GOLD launched a highly successful 1962-63 season.

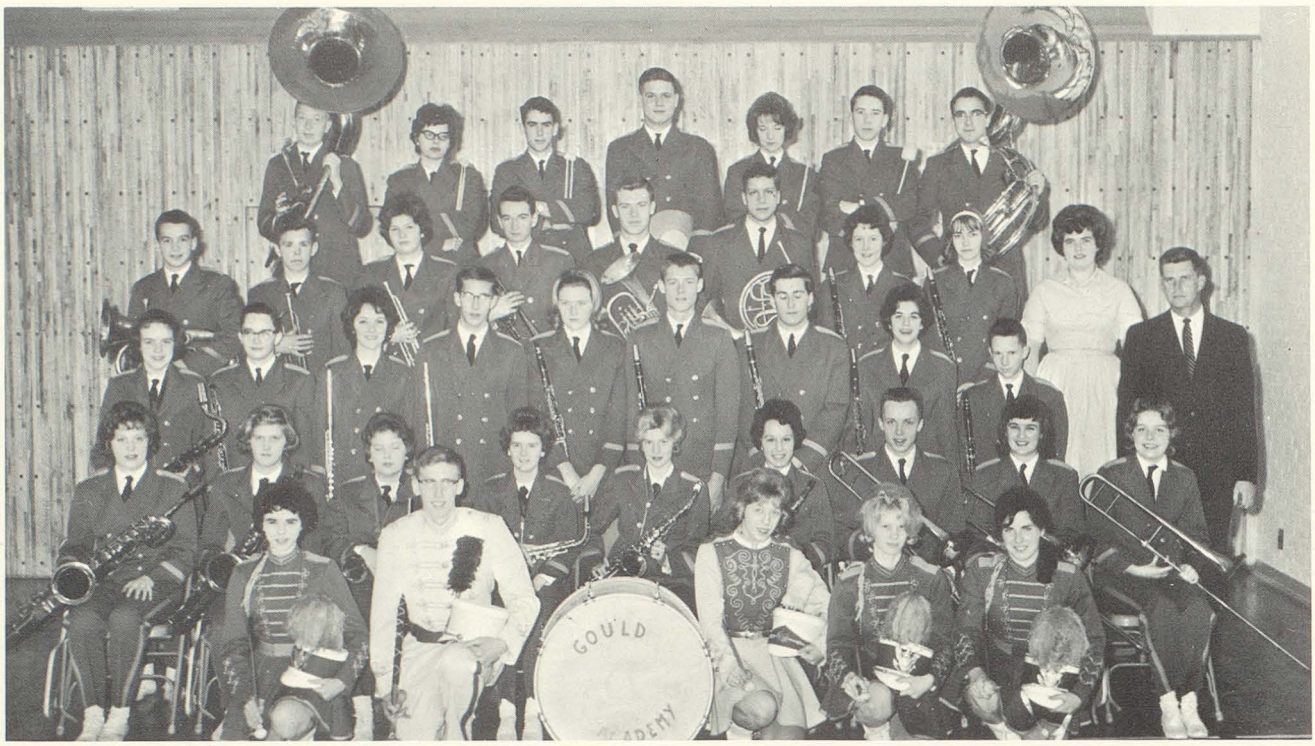

In addition to the traditional accounts of school functions, sports, editorials and the Headmaster's corner, there was the addition of book reviews, columns on World affairs and a series of reports from 1962 graduates concerning college life. These interesting additions plus a face lifting of the front page made the distribution of the paper a day of anticipation.

The competent staff, chosen by Mr. David Thompson, who has expertly directed the publication since its founding, worked assiduously to merit each deadline. An excellent series was produced due to the combined efforts and close co-operation of all.

The BLUE AND GOLD regrets the death of Carl Brown, a highly respected Gould graduate. Mr. Brown, who brought the paper into its final step of realization, was a wonderful man, more than just co-operative, and will be greatly missed by all.

Credit is due to the Camera Club for its fine photographs, which made possible the production of a beautiful eight-page issue. As always special recognition is given to Mr. Thompson, who with wisdom and expert guidance has established a publication worthy of highest praises.

BAND

Under the fine leadership of Mr. Owen the four musical groups at Gould have achieved many satisfying and almost unbelievable feats.

The Band Members, resplendent in their blue uniforms, have played at every home football and basketball game. It is with pride that we watch them do intricate marching routines and play stirring numbers.

The Dance Band played splendidly at the Valentine's Ball. Their soloist, Bev Bryant, sang several lilting melodies much to the enjoyment of all present.

One evening in March the Band joined with the William Rogers Chapman Club to present a Pops Concert. Many appreciative remarks from the guests of the evening were just reward for the many hours put into preparing not only the light instrumental and vocal music but the attractive tables, delectable foods, and extensive advertising as well. The proceeds from the concert were used to purchase Gould blazers for the boys in the Chapman Club.

Chapman Club performed Benjamin Britton's A CEREMONY OF CAROLS as part of the Christmas Vespers. The challenge of this unusual yet lovely piece of music was met beautifully by those dedicated students; the audience of that hushed winter evening will not soon forget the stirring melodies. The soloists were Bev Bryant, Sandy White, and Ed Dudley. The program of the evening was completed by a Christmas contata, THE CHRISTMAS STORY, by Petzold and several other pieces sung by the Glee Club.

Members of the Chapman Club have been privileged to attend the Community Concerts in Rumford, where they have enjoyed such artists as the Don Shirley Trio and the Westminster Choir.

Members from all the musical groups have participated in several state music festivals. A large group traveled to Sanford last fall to participate in the Western Maine Music Festival. Again almost thirty students went to the Independent Music Festival at Bowdoin College in April. The weekend following Spring Vacation (April 4-6) found thirteen students taking part in the All State Musical Festival in Waterville. Those forming our group were: Larry Billings, Bev Bryant, Louise Delano, Steve Dock, Ed Dudley, Carol Flint, Alan Howard, Dick Jacobs, Brian McCrodden, Linda Paine, Laura Sawyer, Sylvia Smith, and Sandy White.

Despite the long hours of rehearsal and strict discipline involved, the finished product was well worth our efforts. We met many new friends and enjoyed the hospitality of several Maine cities. All agreed that each concert was a truly rewarding experience.

On May 26 the Glee Club performed THE BRAHMS REQUIEM. This stirring and majestic score required many hours of rehearsal. However, each person found deep satisfaction in learning the numerous difficult passages. It was certainly worth every minute we spent on it.

One June 9th the Baccalaureate Choir, Varsity Glee Club, and Band did several numbers at the Commencement exercises.

So end the 1962-63 musical activites at Gould. Chapman Club, Glee Club, and Band wish to thank Mr. Owen for his enthusiasm and lasting patience.

FRENCH CLUB

This year, as in years past, students saw the French Club very active on the Gould Campus. Under the wise supervision of Mr. Taylor and Miss Littlefield, the club sponsored a very successful Friday night dance in the fall.

On the Wednesday night before Christmas vacation all the joyful members gathered together and went-a-caroling through town. After the merry jaunt, everyone was invited into Mr. and Mrs. Vachon's home for cocoa and candy. While munching, they enjoyed a friendly chat and listened to "The First Family."

March first brought Madame Rolfe, a woman who was born in Rouen, France, and is now a citizen of Bethel, to a very interesting French Club meeting. She spent the period telling about her native country and answering questions about it.

The highlight of the club's activities for the year was held on April 20, in the new girls' gym. The annual French Club Party, with special attraction of the Can-Can dance, presented a gala evening to all those who attended, thanks to active members who spent a lot of time planning and decorating and also to non-members who put in valuable time decorating.

Some interesting films about France were purchased by the club this year. Some French classes saw them, and some were enjoyed at various meetings.

The officers who were elected to lead the club this year were as follows: Secretary, Joanne Runyon; Treasurer, Beverly Bryant; Vice president, Bill Boynton; President, Steve Dock.

ART CLASS

This year the art classes, under Mr. Owen's guidance, have worked in many different areas of art.

Starting in the fall with pencil and charcoal drawings, Art I has worked with water colors, oils, sculpture, mosaics, and wood carving.

The Art II class has worked with water colors, oils, sculpture, pottery, wood carving, and jewelry.

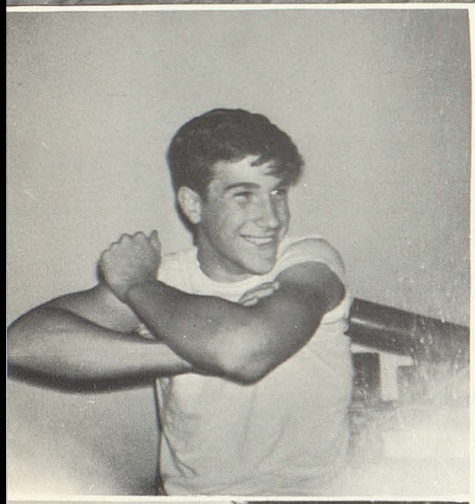

Members of both classes have made posters for various school events and both classes have learned some of the history and background of art.

The members of his classes wish to thank Mr. Owen for the time and effort that he has put into giving us a better knowledge of the many branches of art.

CAMERA CLUB

The Gould Academy Camera Club has done a fine job this past Year in taking pictures in most, if not all, of Gould's activities. At all the sports events there was a Camera Club member following the event closely in search of an interesting pose.

The officers of the club were elected in the spring of 1962 by the previous officers. This year's president is Dave Gardner. Next to him in the honorable seat of the vice-presidency is David Anderson. Sheilia Roberts is the efficient secretary while the guy holding the purse strings is Bill Boynton.

Twenty meetings of the club are held in the course of the year. These occur on alternate Wednesdays.

Each member gains knowledge while participating in this activity which may benefit him in a future hobby or business.

The Camera Club has its own darkroom in Holden Hall where the members work for the club as well as for themselves.

In each issue of the BLUE AND GOLD there have been pictures which were taken, printed, and sold to them by the Camera Club. At the Winter Carnival the club was on hand to snap the picture of the winning snow sculpture as well as the Queen, Norma Kimball and her escort, Mike Davenport, while he escorted her from the throne. Some of the Club's members may be seen with their cameras while on a hiking trip or weekend skiing. Such pictures often present the unknown qualities of fellow students.

As an added attraction, during the Christmas season, the Camera Club sold cards which depicted the Congregational Church and the familiar Hanscom Hall. These were well received by students, faculty, and friends, and may provide the basis for fund raising in the future.

On the weekend of the 13th and 14th of April, the Camera Club sponsored the first dance held in the new white and blue walls of the girls' gymnasium. This dance initiated the gym very nicely for the role it will play in future student entertainment.

It should also be mentioned that many of the pictures in this yearbook, including the Seniors' Who's Who, were taken by this club. Many thanks to Dave Gardner and Dave Anderson for a job well done.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Gould Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America is one of the better known and more active organizations on the Gould campus. This year the members of the F.H.A. are working to develop their projects from the four objectives: 1) the understanding of themselves and their worth to others; 2) helping members learn to contribute to the joys and satisfaction of family living; 3) helping members understand the need for staying in school; 4) the launching of good citizenship through homemaking.

The District E convention was held at Lisbon Falls last fall. Judy Lapham was chosen as delegate for district vice-chairman in the fall of 1963. The chapter is very pleased that she received the position.

At the first meeting of the F.H.A., Jane Look reported on the National Convention held during the summer of 1962 in Salt Lake City, Utah. The members are helping Jane with her National Convention project of Physical Fitness and under that, Weight Control. Miss Brouillard lectured to the girls on physical fitness; Mrs. Day, on weight control.

In order to make money for the chapter, the F.H.A. sold fudge, pens with the basketball schedule for 1962-1963 on them, and sponsored several Friday-night dances. They sponsored the first semi-formal of the year -- the Valentine Dance. The girls put much effort into decorating for the dance. At Christmas time the members had a special project called "toys for tots." Members of the Chapter collected old and broken toys which they repaired and turned over to the local Welfare group for distribution. Also in order to raise money for the Chapter, the members sold meat cookbooks. Sheila Roberts won first prize for selling the most cookbooks; Carol Twitchell, second prize.

Working to emphasize their over-all goals, the 37 members hold meetings twice a week under the leadership of the executive council consisting of president, Linda Nickerson; vice-president, Jane Look; treasurer, Ann Scribner; secretary, Jane Look; parliamentarian, Jackie Jackson; social and recreation chairman, Dorothy Verrill; historian, Cynthia Coolidge; and public relations chairman, Carlene Jordan.

The girls worked hard to prepare for the State Convention to be held in Augusta in April. Several girls were elected to go to Augusta to represent the chapter of Gould.

At Class Day the F.H.A. award is presented to a senior girl for outstanding work during the four years.

The members of the F.H.A. wish very much to thank Miss Minot for making the year 1962-1963 a successful one.

DRAMATICS

Since no stage was available for the traditional Senior Play due to the construction of the new Bingham Auditorium, it was decided to cooperate with Hebron Academy in a joint production, for the first time in the history of the two schools.

Thus under the co-direction of Mr. Richard Stratton and Mr. David Thompson of Gould, on May 25th in the Hebron Gymnasium the curtain rose on a two-act tragi-comedy of Ireland's struggle to gain her freedom from England in the bloody ambushes which tore the Emerald Isle with strife during the 1920's. The playwright was the famous Sean O'Casey.

An enthusiastic audience greeted the near-professional efforts of the combined cast. The three Gould girls, Ann Thomas, Connie Myrick, and Jane Allen, were effective in their respective roles of Mrs. Henderson, a domineering woman with noisy neighbors whom she wishes squelched, Connie Myrick as a loyal young Irish girl killed while trying to escape from the "Black and Tans," and Jane Allen as the woebegone wife of a drunken Dublin braggart.

All settings and sound effects were efficiently handled by the Hebron boys, and the eight Hebron actors were most convincing as idealists, cowards, tough English soldiers; For the record their names Al Rubottom, Al Kennedy, Leo Flynn, Roger Newton, Elliott Daban, John Steinbeck, Jr., and Bob Bliss.

DEBATING CLUB

During the past year the Debating Club seemed to appeal to a larger number of students than before. Because of this, we have been able to succeed in presenting a fairly extensive program to those who joined.

Our first meeting beheld the reappearance of the veterans and letter holders, Trafton Foster, George Eypper and Nancy Hancock. These, as well as our new recruits, were held responsible for impromptu three-minute speeches. These were repeated again in the spring, for which points were awarded toward a letter for improvements made. This year, for the first time, officers were elected to try to aid Mr. Vinton, our coach, in his rather extensive chore. They are President -- George Eypper, Organizer of Debates -- Trafton Foster and Secretary -- Nancy Hancock.

The national debate topic of, Should the Countries of the Western Hemisphere Form a Common Market, was discussed and debated in the fall, in order to give the group a better understanding of the subject for future use.

In November the group sponsored five debates to enter the statewide discussion panels at Bates College. Those entered were Experts -- Trafton Foster and Nancy Hancock, and Novices -- Barry Townsend, Jim Clifton, and Kenneth Morse. The topic discussed was again the National topic. All five placed well, with special mention of Trafton Foster, who went on to compete in the finals.

In December, George Eypper, Trafton Foster, Barry Townsend, and Kenneth Morse participated in the Bowdoin forum. The topic under discussion here was -- Resolve that the United States, if asked, Should Give Military Aid to Cuba -- it was a very worthwhile experience for all who participated.

After participating in larger debates, the club has been fortunate to have had practice debates with the Fryeburg and Hebron Academies' debating clubs. Both of the debates have given our organization more practice in the art of clear speaking, and we hope to have many more.

Many in the group worked on original speeches for the Knights of Pythias Speaking Contest during the month of April. The main title for all of these was Rights and Responsibilities.

Although our organization this year is losing two of its finest debators, George Eypper and Trafton Foster, we all feel that a new spark of interest in our group is developing on campus. In the next few years our club may become one of the most active on campus.

After completing a very successful year, all of us wish to extend our heartiest thanks to our coach, Mr. Vinton. Without his help we would never have reached this height of success.

OUTING CLUB EXECUTIVE BOARD

Life is much more satisfying when thoughts of good times fill one's mind. Recognizing this fact, the Outing Club has sprinkled 1963 with many enjoyable experiences ranging from mountain hikes to our special carnival weekend.

The Outing Club has perhaps the largest membership of all school organizations. With the advent of new seasons this active group has found fresh opportunities in which to indulge.

The warm, colorful days that are indicative to fall's glory found us scaling three mountains: Barker, better known as Sunday River Skiway, gentle Caribou, and challenging Washington. Oftentimes we would end our hikes with impromptu swims in chilly mountain brooks.

It was our responsibility to plan the entertainment for a weekend in the fall so we decided to do something a mite different. The result of our efforts was a friendly, country square dance for one night and athletic team competition in the Field House the next day. It proved to be a most successful attempt at active fun.

Before long old mother nature started to sift soft, fluffy snow over our precious land. Accepting this with joy, we put into serviceable order our skis, poles, boots, and warm clothing. Sunday River soon became a very popular place indeed.

March winds blew in the highlight of our year, the Winter Carnival. Many plans began their execution. Working with a Scandinavian theme, snow sculptures were assembled. March 8th and 9th finally arrived with their interclass competition in skiing and other races, impressive coronation, and delightful Carnival Ball.

Taking advantage of the last of winter's wonderland, a selected number of especially energetic members journeyed to the slopes of Sugarloaf Mountain for the weekend of April 13th and 14th. We certainly treasured the last sunburns and flying sensations.

Looking back over our list of adventures, we find many pleasant memories. Tucking these thoughts in a small but secure compartment, we now begin to anticipate the riches of the year to come.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the most active and successful organizations at Gould Academy. It promotes an interest in the intramural sports program and emphasizes school spirit and leadership. Under the leadership of president, Norma Kimball; vice-president, Joey Runyon; secretary, Jane Look; and treasurer, Mary Ann Chase, the association has had a very successful year.

Every girl enrolled at Gould is an associate member of the organization and has the privilege of attending all meetings, but she has no voting power or the right to hold office. As soon as any girl has earned 10 points and has paid her dues, she is considered to be an active member, having full voting power and the right to hold office.

Each spring a council for the following year is elected, consisting of four officers, three class representatives and managers and assistant managers for each sport.

Each girl receives a certain number of points for each sport in which she takes part. If she attends the required number of scheduled meetings, she will receive 5 points, 2 more for class team, one for Blue and Gold team, and 3 points for a Sports Day team. Any girl who has earned 50 points receives class numerals, a school letter for 100 points, a pin for 150 points and plaques are awarded at Class Day exercises for those senior girls who have earned 200 points.

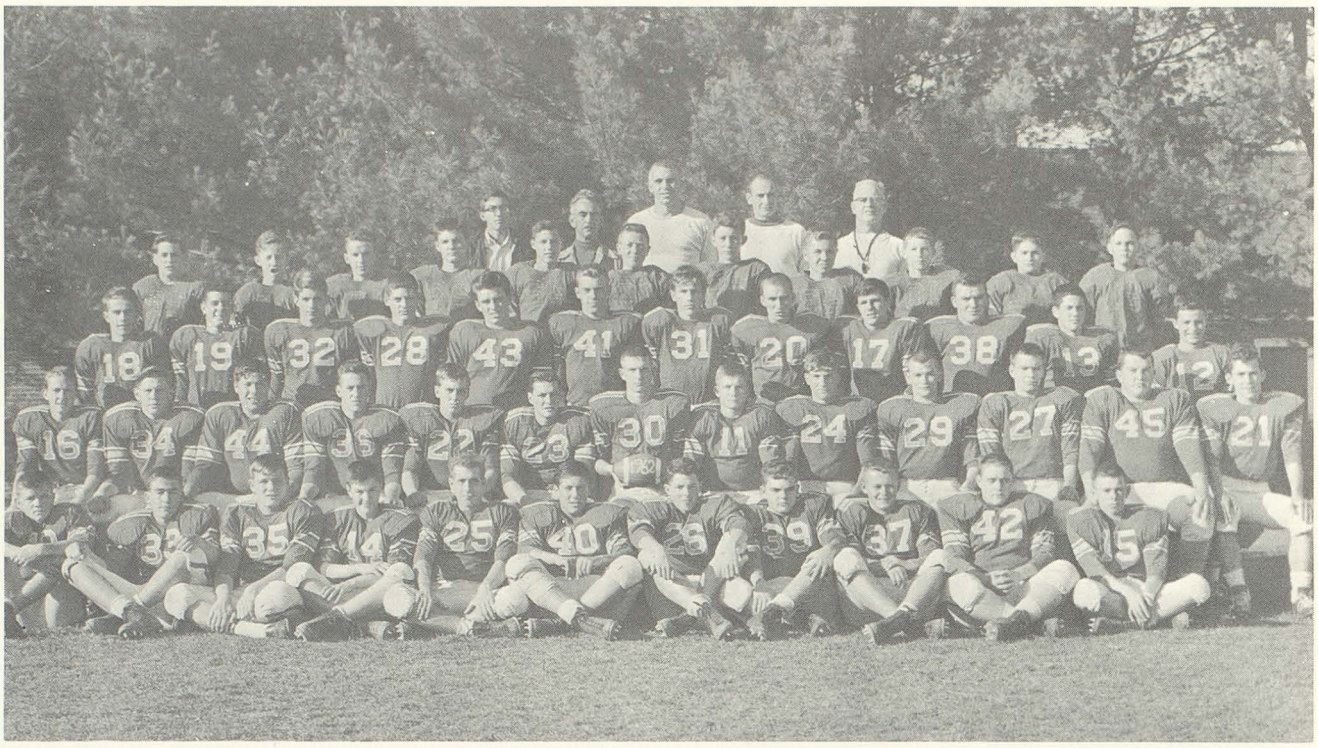

The A.A. sponsors several events throughout the school year. Among these are the Welcome Tea during September for all new girls, a Sports Day in the fall with Kents Hill, the annual Halloween Party, a winter and spring Sports Day, the Award Banquet in May and the annual council overnight in May. This year we also held a fashion show during April.

The Association is responsible for the Cheerleaders and in this way helps build up more school spirit. It earns money by selling food and drinks at the basketball and football games.

Every girl who is a member is especially proud to be affiliated with this organization. She can easily see the many benefits she is receiving from working with the other members and in the organization. The A.A. is truly worthy of the reputation it has earned and kept over the past years.

Many thanks go to our advisor and physical education teacher, Miss Brouillard, for all the help she has given us in making our year a real success.

FOOTBALL

The football team under the direction of Coaches Scott, Roderick, Kailey, and Cousins opened the season by defeating Lyndon 9-7 on the latter's field. It was the first game for both teams, and the caliber of football was typical of early season play.

The following Saturday, a mighty Winthrop eleven defeated Gould 27-7. Gould's defense at this point was inexperienced and slow, but as the year progressed, the opposition found the big three in our defensive line, Sam Bartholomew, John Young, Kevin Wight, increasingly difficult to go through. This huge line was backed by spirited and speedy linebackers, ends and backfield men. The offense was light, speedy and aggressive, with the handicap of inexperience.

After the defeat by Winthrop, the Huskies faced the powerful, experienced and aggressive team of Mexico on Parents' Day. The battle was fairly evened up until the third period when the Pintos went way ahead. Jim Corriveau and Bill Jordan ran for most of the Gould yardage, and Corriveau accounted for a touchdown on a 33-yard run. When the smoke had cleared, Mexico, later to be crowned state champions, emerged with a 27-13 victory over the Huskies.

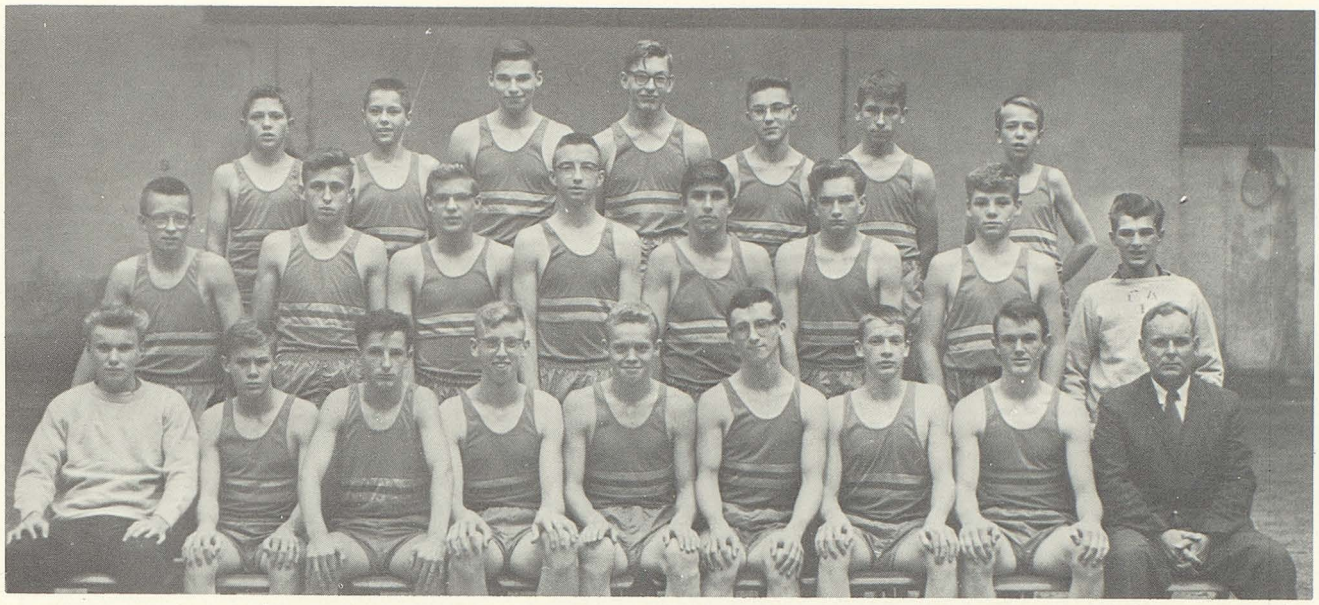

During the following week, the coaches worked hard to prepare their team for a heavily favored Kennebunk team. The Huskies defeated their foes 20-6. Bill Jordan and Corriveau behind spirited defense and blocking ran very well. Tom Hamilton, with several long runs, was outstanding during the game.

The team then traveled to Lisbon and amid snow and mud lost the game in the last few minutes of play 7-0.

The week preceding the Fryeburg game was one filled with anxiety and a desire for revenge. The year before, Fryeburg defeated Gould for the first time in eighteen years, and the Huskies were planning to start another winning streak. With desire in the hearts of the players, and a frenzy from the drenched spectators, Gould defeated Fryeburg in snow and rain 14-0. Hard aggressive defense backed by good offense combined to hand Fryeburg the defeat.

The sports writers predicted that Gould would be lucky to win as many games as they lost, but either we were lucky or we played good football, because we closed the season with a respectable record of three wins and three losses.

CROSS COUNTRY

The opening of the 1962 cross country season saw the return of two lettermen of the past year, Clarence Remington and the Captain, Dan Grover. The team was fortunate in having many members of the previous year's squad return. They were Ralph Jackson, Steve Dock, Tony Chapman, Raymond Saunders, Robert Swain, Eric Paul, and Trafton Foster. The new members who rounded out this year's team were Bruce Lane, Lee Vail, Bruce Brown, Andrew Buck, and Richard Packard. The job of keeping track of the team and its gear fell to the manager, Jon Stowell, and his assistant, Bill Keoskie.

The coach, Mr. Frank Vogt, soon had a strenuous building program under way. There were plenty of exercises topped off by running overdistance. He charted out a new 2.3 mile long course, the old one having given way to the construction of the new bridge.

The winner of a cross country meet is the team that gets the lowest score. The scoring is based on the order of finish, first getting I point, second 2 points, third 3 etc. The track season was highlighted by many events. The following paragraph describes them.

The season opened with a three way meet at Fryeburg with Fryeburg, Oxford Hills, and Gould. The score: Gould 24 -- Fryeburg 45 -- Oxford Hills 65. The Gould finishers were Steve Dock, second; Dan Grover, third; Vaughan Damone, fourth; Tony Chapman, seventh; and Bruce Lane, eighth. On October 2 the Gould team went to Mexico to compete with Mexico and Bridgton. Gould won with 28 points to Mexico's 46 and Bridgton's 48. The finish: Steve Dock, first; Vaughan Damone, third; Dan Grover, fourth; Tony Chapman, eight; and Bruce Lane, twelfth. Gould swapped honors with Portland in the third meet held October 9. Gould lost the varsity run 35 to 24, but she won the jayvee run 21 to 40. Varsity finish: Vaughan Damone, third; Steve Dock, fourth; Dan Grover, fifth; Tony Chapman, eleventh; and Bruce Lane, twelfth. Jayvee finish: Bob Bartholomew, first; Lee Vail, second; Ralph Jackson, fifth; Raymond Saunders, sixth; and Bruce Lane, eighth. On October 18 Gould scored a perfect score against Phillips on the new Gould course, 15 to 48. The winning time, 14:42. The finish: Dan Grover, first; Steve Dock, second; Vaughan Damone, third; Bruce Lane, fourth; Tony Chapman, fifth; Clarence Remington, seventh; and Andy Buck, eighth. On October 23, Gould traveled to Hebron. Gould lost to Hebron 31 to 24. The Gould tally: Steve Dock, third; Dan Grover, fourth; Vaughan Damone, fifth; Bruce Lane, ninth; and Tony Chapman tenth.

For the first time this year a Western Maine Conference Championship was held at Bridgton. The Gould team competed with teams from Mexico, Oxford Hills, Bridgton, and Fryeburg. Gould runners walked away with the top honors.

The highlight of the season was the state meet at Orono. Gould took second place in class M from a field of twenty-nine teams. The Gould runners finished as follows from a field of two hundred three runners:

Seventh -- Steve Dock
Eleventh -- Dan Grover
Nineteenth -- Vaughan Damone
Thirty-first -- Bruce Lane
Fifty-seventh -- Tony Chapman
Eighty-fourth -- John Lombard
Eighty-ninth -- Clarence Remington

SKIING

This year's Gould Academy Ski Team was handicapped because there were only four returning lettermen: Captain Mike Davenport, Alan Chapman, Jim Corriveau, and Greg Howe. The Gould team had lost through last year's graduation New England champion skiers Pete Davis, Frank Emery, Jay Langley, Steve Parent, Steve Saunders, and Rick Wyman.

Those who earned letters this year are: Bob Amrein, Jack Brooks, Alan Chapman, Jim Corriveau, Captain Mike Davenport, Tom Hamilton, Greg Howe, Ralph Jackson, Sonny Remington, Don R. Young, and the manager, Alan Howard.

The first meet at Holderness was held in continuously falling snow. Gould took a third place behind host Holderness and Andover Academy. Davenport won the cross-country, Corriveau placed second and third in the Alpine events, and Hamilton took a sixth in the jumping.

The second meet took place at Farmington; Colby College, Gould, Rumford, and host Farmington fought for top honors with Rumford coming out on top by winning both Nordic contests. Gould and Farmington divided the Alpine events; Corriveau was again the top man for Gould with two seconds in the Alpine.

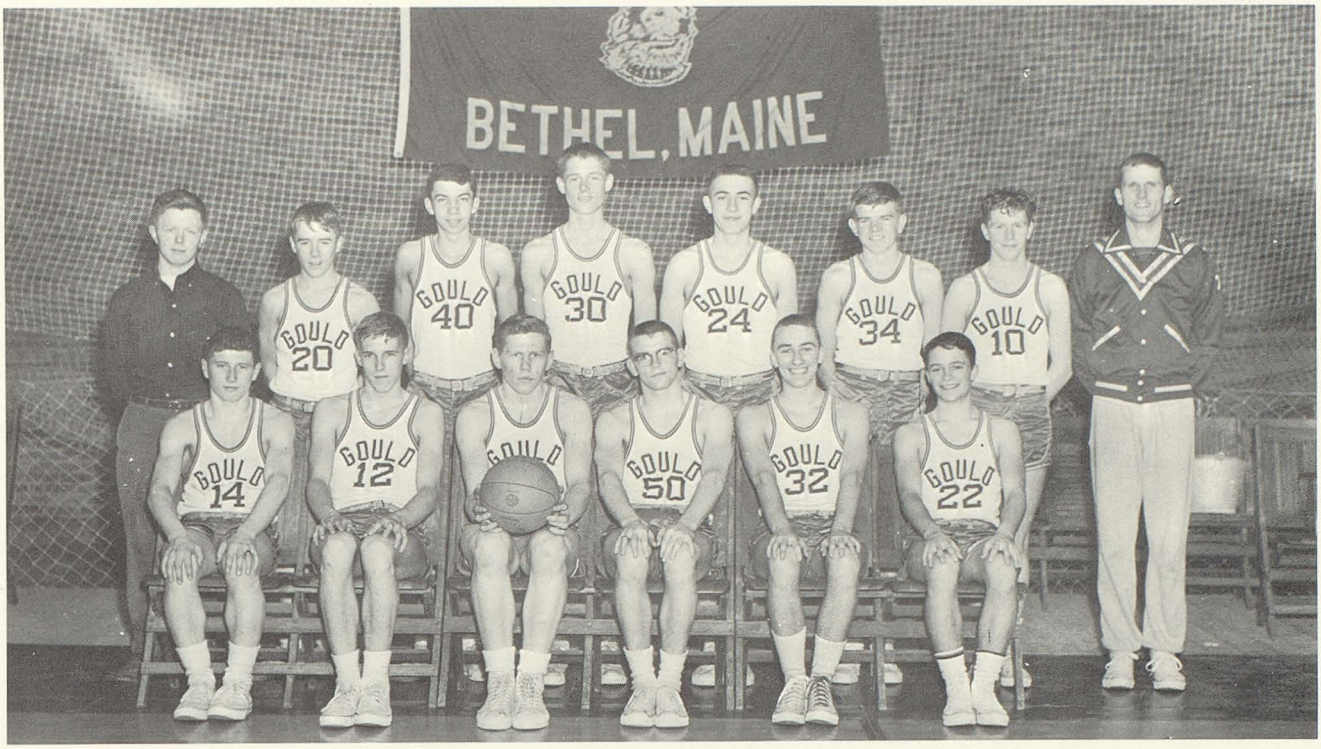

On January 25 and 26, Gould traveled to Auburn, Maine, for the annual Edward Little Winter Carnival. On Friday Gould placed third behind Edward Little and Rumford in the slalom and giant slalom with Corriveau winning the slalom. Saturday morning dawned extremely cold. The jumping was held at two o'clock, and Greg Howe placed fourth in this event, followed by Hamilton in seventh place. In the afternoon's cross-country, Davenport was high scorer for Gould, taking fifth place. Edward Little won both Nordic events and the meet, followed by Rumford and Gould.

After participating in Rumford's Winter Carnival where the team placed third behind Rumford and Edward Little in a meet which was held in a swirling snow storm, Gould practiced hard for the State Meet at Edward Little. On Friday Corriveau became State Slalom Champion, and Gould won both Alpine events. Gould suffered defeats in Saturday's Nordic events; however, Howe placed sixth in the jumping, and Corriveau took a thirteenth in the cross-country, being Gould's first man to finish.

On Thursday, February 14, the Gould team left in the "cracker box" to go from Bethel to Lyndonville, Vermont, for the New England Interscholastic Ski Championships. Lyndonville emerged victorious with a strong team effort. Edward Little managed a second, Hanover, New Hampshire, a third, and Gould, a fourth. In the slalom events Corriveau, Davenport, Amrein, and Brooks finished seventh, sixteenth, twenty-fourth, and thirty-first, respectively. Corriveau, third, Davenport, twelth, Young, thirteenth, and Amrein, twenty-seventh, were the Gould placers in the giant slalom. With powerful team support and morale, Davenport finished fifth in the cross-country but Gould lost ground in the jumping, its first man being Hamilton with a twenty-first.

Thus ended the Gould Academy ski season with next year's team looking forward to much success under the leadership of Coaches Kailey and Barth, and Co-Captains, Jim Corriveau, and Greg Howe.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

This year's basketball team, coached by Mr. Taylor, managed to better last season's record by winning six out of fifteen games. The team showed excellent spirit and fine play and gave the spectators some good games. With only two lettermen returning, Bruce Moulton and Dale Stevens, the team lacked experience.

The Huskies, of average height, faced some very tall teams in Oxford Hills, Mexico, and Jay, but the first game with Fryeburg, more our size, was rewarded with a victory of (35-34). Fans' hopes rose, but the second game with a very strong, well-balanced Oxford Hills team smashed the dreams of an all-win season. Though Les Stevens (19), Buddy Carver and Dale Stevens (12) scored highly, the team out-classed. By Christmas vacation, Gould had won two of five games and hoped with a little luck to break even.

The vacation proved a drawback for the Huskies, who lost the next five games to Mechanic Falls (54-42), Fryeburg (35-34), Mechanic Falls (80-45), Jay (72-48), and Oxford Hills (66-49). Then the Huskies began clicking again, winning the next three games with St. Pat's of New Hampshire (70-56). Bridgton (53-52), and Notre Dame of Berlin, New Hampshire (70-56). Les Stevens with 27 points, Dale Stevens with 18 points, and Bruce Moulton with 15 points sparked the Huskies to their second undefeated season in the state of New Hampshire.

The next game with Mexico found the Huskies out of tune as they lost (61-35).

The final game of the season with Old Orchard was one of the most exciting ever played at Gould with game running into overtime. A hustling Gould five came out on top with a (60-61) victory, even though because of a technicality in scoring during the last two seconds of overtime play, the official score read Old Orchard -- 62, Gould -- 61.

Gould's scoring during the season seemed to be quite evenly distributed with each player contributing in most every game. Some fine backcourt men such as Paul Imhof, Les Stevens, and Buddy Carver provided the necessary drive.

Next year Gould will have three lettermen returning: Paul Imhof, Les Stevens, and Dale Stevens. These boys have some experience and with the help of Tom Day, Dave Kibbe, Tim Ramage, Mike Chretein, Bill Boynton, and Phil Burns who rounded out this years' team, maybe hopes for the future look quite bright.

The Jayvees had very unsuccessful season under the fine coaching of Mr. Cousins and bright hopes after a year's experience next year's team looks forward to a better season.

BASEBALL VARSITY

Gould Academy's baseball season began the first of April. Unlike the last few years, in which several lettermen have returned, only two returned from last year's championship team. They were Bruce Moulton, captain, and Dale Stevens. Alan Chapman, who saw some varsity action last year, was no stranger to the Gould Academy nine.

This year we had something new added to the team. The school had purchased a pitching machine. This shortened the time needed for batting practice and helped many boys improve their hitting.

Although we did not have a winning season this year, some satisfaction was received from the thought of future teams. Gould's record in the Western Maine Conference was three wins and seven losses. We learned one lesson this year -- It is never too late to win a ballgame, as we saw in our first encounter with Mexico, when they came from seven runs behind to a victory.

We were handicapped by the loss of ace pitcher, Charlie Newell, but Matt Brooks and John Young maintained this part of the team.

Unlike other years, there was only one senior on the varsity squad. The major part of the team was composed of freshmen and juniors. This year, for the first time in several years, three freshmen received their letters. They were Neil Olson, who played short stop; Brian Buck, right fielder; and Mike Chretien, who could be found playing third base. This year the boys received valuable experience which they will put to good use. Next year the boys will be used to playing together, and this alone will be to their advantage.

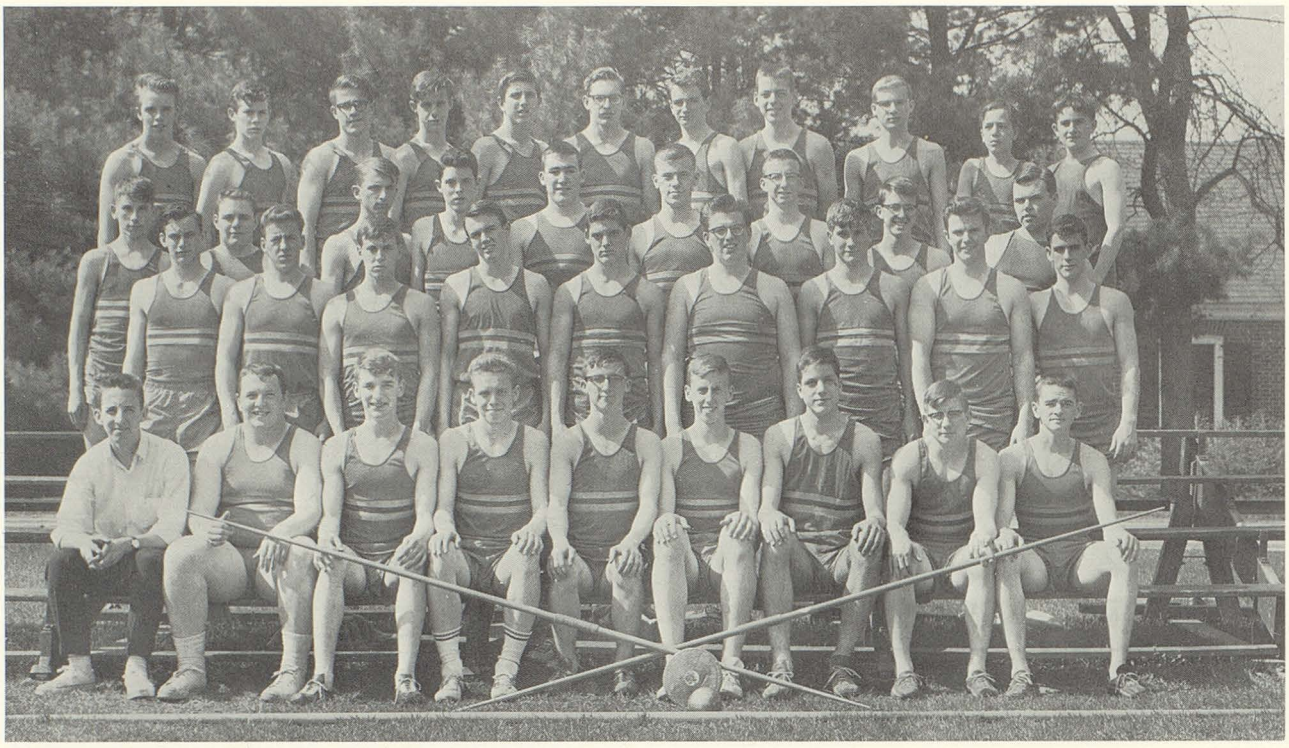

This year the team is lucky, in a way, because they will be losing just one player, Captain Bruce Moulton. They will have ten returning lettermen.

For two years in a row, Dale Stevens has won the batting crown. He was able to capture it this season by maintaining an average of 392.

On June 8 the Varsity played the Alumni team, made up of a generous number of players from former Gould championship teams and coached by Francis "Hi" Berry. The final score was 10-4 in favor of the Alumni. Charlie Newell, who has been seeing action for the U. of Maine, pitched for the Alumni, allowing only 7 hits and striking out eleven men. Captain Moulton pitched for the Varsity and also accounted for the only home run of the game.

Next year's captain-elect is Matt Brooks. We wish the very best to him and Coach Bowhay in the coming year.

TRACK

At the end of last year, with many fine performers graduating, no one expected much from the 1963 track team, but the appearance of speedsters like Arthur Hammond, John Lombard, Bearce Carter and Bob Pierce at the first track meeting of the year gave the squad visions of glory.

Prospects looked even better after the Huskies upset Stephens High of Rumford in their first meet of the year on Saturday, April 28. Sweeping the 440 and broad jump, Gould piled up a total of 75 points to overpower the visitors 51. Art Hammond alone collected fifteen points, winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the broad jump. Art, however, received a leg injury which was to put him out of commission for most of the rest of the year. Corey Brown was another high scorer, winning the high jump and the 440 and placing in the high hurdles and broad jump. Other Gould winners were as follows: McMillin (tie) in the pole vault, Grover in the mile, Dock in the two mile and Corriveau in the low hurdles.

The team met with success again the following week when they defeated Farmington 76-50. The Huskies split the number of first places but showed considerably more depth than the visiting Greyhounds. Heavy scoring in the sprints made up for the team's weakness in the weight events. Corey Brown scored 11 points by winning the 440 and placing in the high jump, broad jump and 220 dash. Bruce Lane and Bob Pierce led Gould sweeps in the mile and 220 respectively while Jim Corriveau won the broad jump and scored second in the 140 yard low hurdles.

The following week's contest with Oxford Hills and Fryeburg was cancelled because of snow, but May 15 brought the Oxford County Meet; despite a continuous downpour, five teams competed in the meet, some of which (the jumping events and the shot-put) were held in the cage. Without Hammond, Brown, and Corriveau, who were taking College Boards, the Huskies managed to pick up four first places and retain third in the meet of which Oxford Hills was the surprise victor; the Vikings were followed by Stephens, Gould, Fryeburg and Mexico in that order. Gould's firsts went to Bruce Lane in the 440 and 880, Kevin Wight in the shot put and Tom Hamilton in the javelin.

Due to a misinterpretation of the schedule of events, the Huskies missed half of the Androscoggin Valley Meet at Bates College on May 25. Nonetheless, the team scored 34 points to place fourth behind Edward Little, Brunswick and Morse in a field of six. Captain Steve Dock and Jim Corriveau accounted for the Huskies' first places, in the two mile and hop, step and jump, an event new to the meet. Trafton Foster scored a third in the two mile, and Bruce Lane and Dan Grover placed second and fourth respectively in the mile.

The Class M Championship in Bangor on June 1 was the finale of the season. Bonny Eagle was an easy victor over the other twenty teams in the field; the Scots were followed by Falmouth in second place, Farmington a surprise third, and Gould fourth. Corey Brown was again high scorer, capturing the 440 in 53.3 seconds and anchoring the 880 yard relay team which accounted for Gould's only other first place; the relay team, consisting of Bearce Carter, John Lombard, Bob Pierce and Corey Brown, edged out the favored Bonny Eagle team by a mere .1 second. Freshman John Lombard raced to an upset second in the 220 yard dash, and Art Hammond, still not completely recovered, managed a third in the broad jump; Tom Hamilton, who placed fifth in the javelin, was Gould's only other scorer in the field events. Distance runners did well in spite of the intense heat; Bruce Lane placed fifth in a record breaking 880, and Captain Dock took fourth in the grueling two mile. Records also fell in the high jump, pole vault and mile run.

Despite a disappointing finish this year, prospects for the future are excellent. Gould can look forward to fine performances from next year's team. My best to all G.A.'s future squads.

BINGHAM HALL

Last spring the peace and solitude of the Gould Academy classroom was shattered by the screeching of jackhammers, as the great renovating project on campus began. American history class wasn't quite the same as the days went on and Mr. Scott found himself competing with the noise of the big campaign, which in the coming months, was to change the view of the campus and give one the impression of a mole uprising. The result of the chaos and the many months of gym classes lost by Gould girls was climaxed by the appearance of a stately addition to the former William Bingham Gymnasium.

To those who are well acquainted with the facilities of the old gym, the new edifice with its various rooms and modern appliances will seem like a utopia.

The main part of the building is, of course, the auditorium, which will seat about 550 on those famous plush theater seats. The front of the auditorium is occupied by the stage and pit for the band. Double speakers will provide the stereophonic sound. At the rear is situated the balcony. Besides serving as a seating capacity, this is where one finds the projection booth. Perhaps this will provide the incentive for a few more up-to-date movies.

To facilitate the stage productions there is a large storage room for props. This will be a great improvement over transporting scenery from the boys' dorm to the gym.

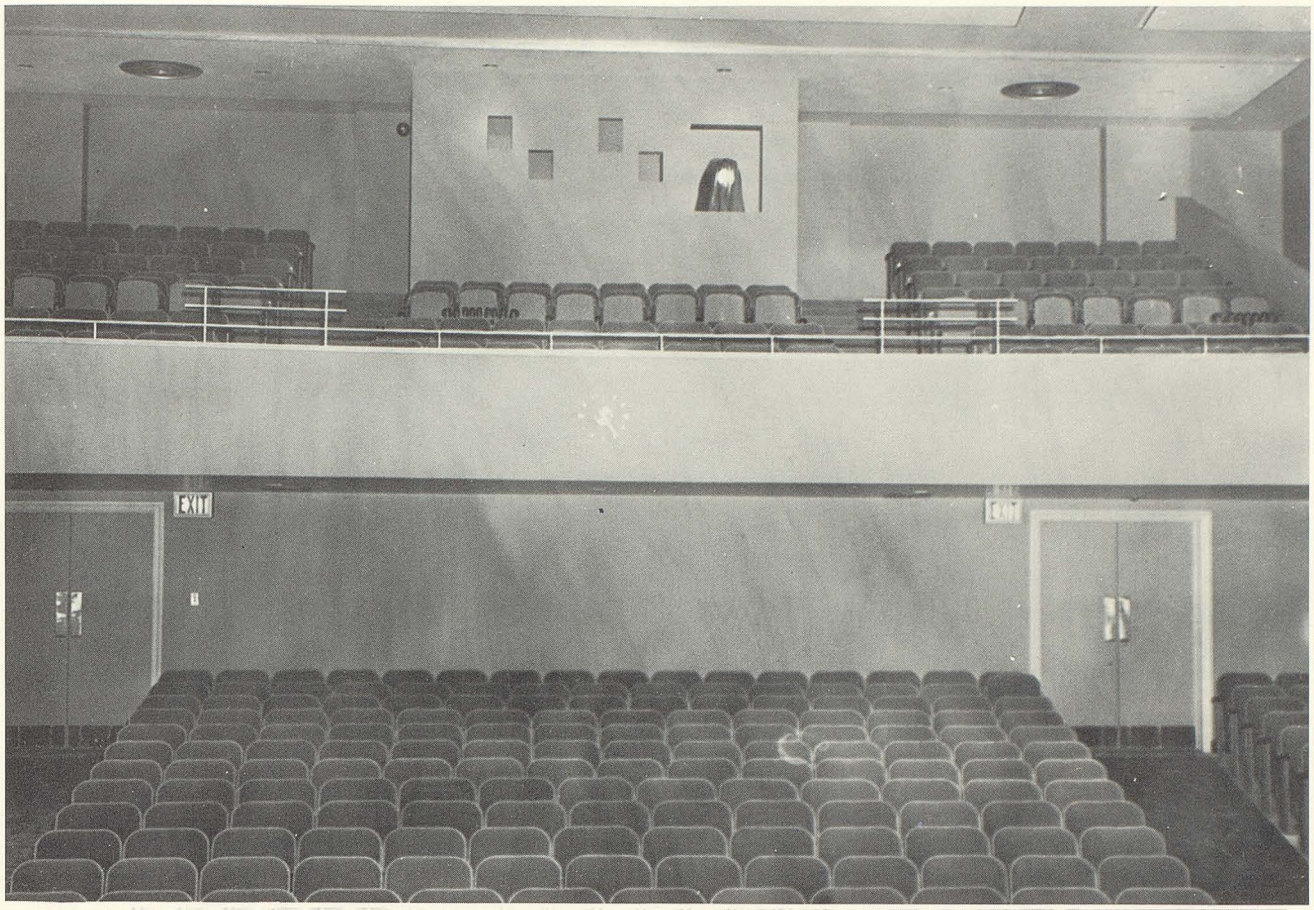

Downstairs beneath the lobby we find the luxurious lounge. I can see this place will be popular after those long, tiring days.

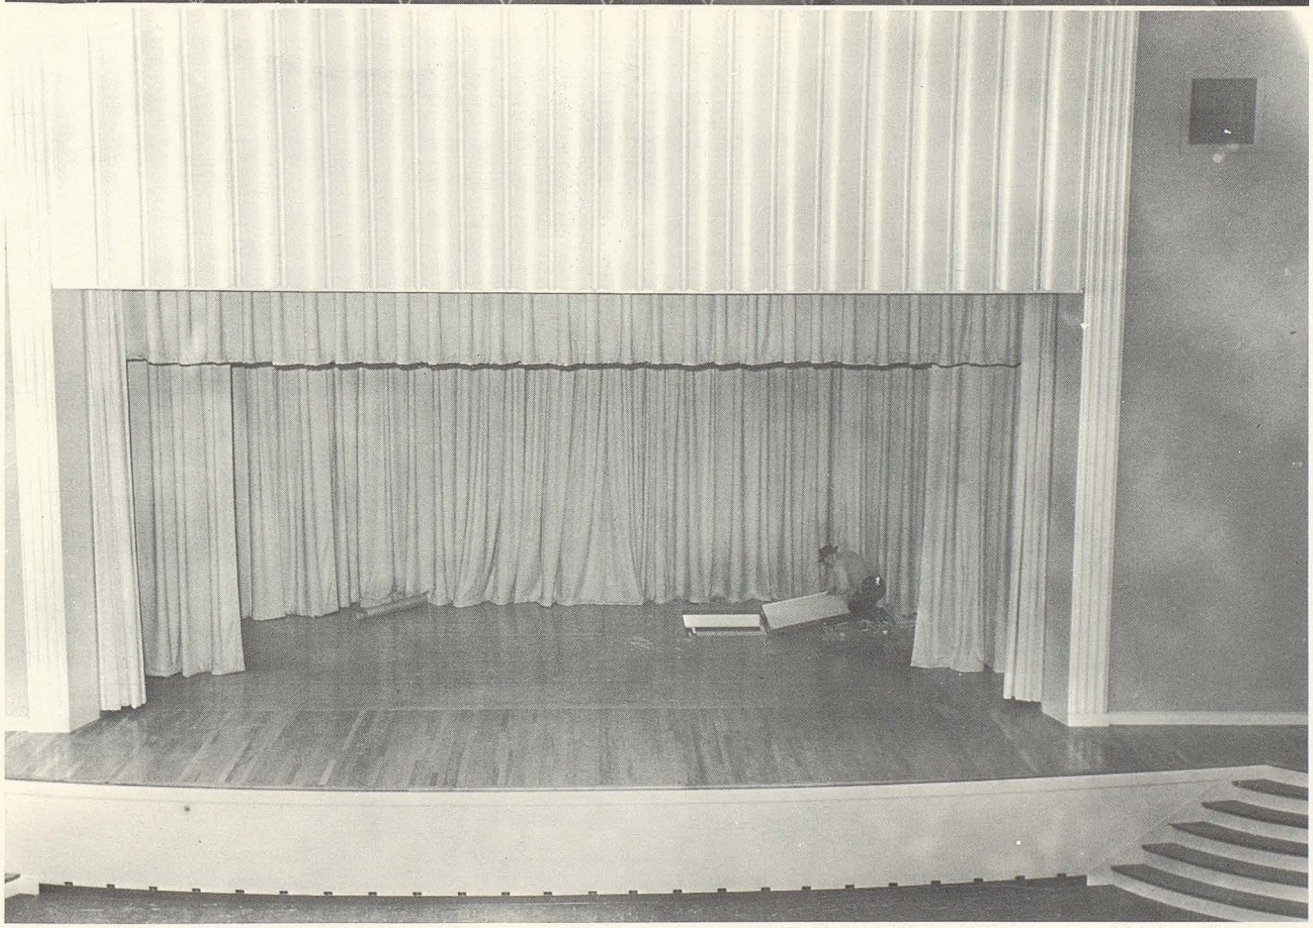

Underneath the stage are located more storage space and dressing rooms. All the music lovers will gape in amazement at the transformation as the music room is changed from the Home Economics Cottage to the bottom floor of the gym. The quarters will no longer be crowded, and the glee club and band will rehearse on new, portable rises.

Mr. Owen will have his own spacious office. Separate soundproof rooms afford ample opportunity for individual practice and sectional rehearsals. One notable feature will be the storage rooms for instruments and music.

Much time has been put into the landscaping of the grounds. A complete and different set of walks will surround the campus. New shrubbery will be strategically placed along the walks.

These new constructions are wonderful, and each student, teacher, and staff worker should be proud of his attendance at Gould Academy. Remember, the grounds can only be as pretty as you make them.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. William Clark, a columnist for both the PORTLAND PRESS HERALD and the PORTLAND SUNDAY TELEGRAM. The luncheon was followed by an Alumni-Varsity baseball game, which the Alumni won 10-4, and the Headmaster's Tea. In the evening a dinner-dance was held for the Seniors and their guests at the N. T. L. House.

Sunday afternoon, June 9, brought the Commencement exercises of the 1963 Gould Academy Senior Class. As the gathered group of parents and friends stood, the Senior Class marched into the green and white tent to the strains of the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," played by the school band. Reverend Clifford W. Laws gave the invocation, which was followed by "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" by Johannes Brahms, sung by the Varsity Glee Club. Brian McCrodden delivered the salutatory essay, and the band followed this with the "March from First Suite in E Flat" by Gutav Holst. Dr. Sidney W. Davidson introduced the Commencement speaker, Commissioner of Education for the State of Maine, Warren G. Hill, whose topic was "The Contributors." The Varsity Glee Club's singing "The Halls of Ivy" by Russell Knight marked the last presentation by the Glee Club in which the 1963 Senior members would participate. George Eypper, II then followed with the valedictory essay on the theme of "knowledge." Headmaster Edmond J. Vachon announced the class honors, followed by the greatly awaited presentation of diplomas to 63 Seniors. The benediction by Reverend Richard M. Hamilton and recession of the now graduated class brought an end to four colorful and meaningful years at Gould for the Class of 1963.
